"Fly Fishing - Beyond the Sport"

Avid conservationist Hugh Lewis will explore the fundamental connections between the natural world and the activities of fly fishing.

He will discuss his personal journey into fly fishing and environmental awareness, which culminated in the formation of the Wild Fish Conservancy – celebrating its 30th anniversary this year.

Hugh Lewis

Hugh Lewis is an avid conservationist and founding member of the Wild Fish Conservancy. He practiced law for over 40 years, retiring in 2017, and now spends much of his time working on conservation issues affecting fish, birds, and the natural environment. He currently sits on the Board of the Wild Fish Conservancy and Western Libraries' Special Collections Fly Fishing Advisory Group. He is also a longtime member of 4th Corner Fly Fishers and a lifetime member of Trout Unlimited.

Western Libraries connects—people to people, people to place, people to learning.
