Tuesday Feb 2
4:00–5:30pm
Special Collections
(Wilson Library
6th Floor)

A panel discussion celebrating noted Pacific Northwest photojournalist Wallie V. Funk. Three individuals familiar with Funk and his body of work will discuss his contributions and their place in the history of local and national photojournalism.

Panelists:
- Paul Cocke // Director of Western’s Office of Communications & Marketing and former news editor of the Anacortes American
- Theresa Trebon // Swinomish Indian Tribal Community and Local Historian
- Scott Terrell // photojournalist for the Skagit Valley Herald and WWU Journalism instructor

Sponsored by Heritage Resources, WWU’s Department of Journalism, and the Office of University Communications & Marketing at WWU.